COOLIDGE SUPPORTS HOOVER

"COME people are saying that as things could not be any own—as Grace and Jim did when worse we might as well try a change. That is a very dangerous principle to apply to the discharge of the duties of American citizenship. Things are much worse in other parts of the world, they could be a great deal worse here than they are, and would have been much worse if it had not been for the vision, the courage and the leadership of President Hoover."

With these words Calvin Coolidge, at the monster mass |. I have one theory that some of those shall be most likely to find progress in holding fast to that which women were angry at Grace Morgan experience has proven to be sound, just and true."

He further rightly said: "The present economic distress vious, so they criticized her. is world-wide," and "it was brought about by forces no government could foresee or prevent."

GIGANTIC GOVERNMENT AID

One of the most remarkable pages in the history of government joys of service and of sacrificing heraid is being written by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which, with $3,800,000,000 at its disposal, has been lending at the rate of $5,-000,000 a day since last February for the relief of the farmers, railroads, insurance companies, banks, building and loan associations and the wrong. And Grace Morgan, too. . . . millions who have a stake in these institutions. It has no parallel in Nearly a half million farmers have borrowed for crop production purposes. Banks and trust companies numbering 4.324 have been aided, in addition to 650 building and loan associations, 80 insurance companies and 50 railroads. And when the government lends to these it is helping every depositor, stockholder, bandholder, policyholder and worker.

This amazing program has been carried out without resort to the simple though dangerous expedient of printing millions in new money and without resort to the degrading and demoralizing dole. What the government has done through the R. F. C. is to use its own credit and because of their disturbing effect borrow money to the extent needed, and then to reloan it on good credit upon you. and good collateral.

On top of this gigantic piece of relief work the R. F. C. has made large loans to the individual states that their unemployment relief programs may not be interrupted for lack of funds.

A conservative estimate places the number of persons who have benefited by this program at a third of the nation's population.

FORTY MILLION URBANITES

As showing clearly what we have reached, if not how and where tion and it will become insignificant. we are going, an official population report puts forty million people into the seven largest cities of the world. Thus about one-third as many persons as inhabit the whole United States have huddled into London, New York, Tokyo, Berlin, Paris, Chicago and Moscow. This will be extremely interesting to philosophical historians of tomorrow, who can reach all sorts of interesting conclusions about the influence on our society of this centralization. Their task will be both pleasant and easy, for everything pertaining to the diagnosis will have happened, and they need only connect this marching column of circumstance with that company of fact to organize the kind of outfit desired. But the matter, unfortunately, is not so clear to us. If we could reach a cool Olympian height, and discern the direction of our course as easily as the censustakers can see people crowding into cities, historians would have little left for their attention except an academic autopsy.

The official figures put London ahead of New York, with some eight million people as against Gotham's seven million, but New York One day the wind his hat blew off claims a metropolitan population of twelve million, and the area thus encompassed compares more fairly with the area London has counted. Tokyo, by the simple process of annexing eighty-two villages, has become the third city in the world, displacing Berlin.

If there were some way of asking the forty million inhabitants of the seven largest cities whether they were satisfied with their residence, or would prefer to occupy calmer territory, we might begin to understand whether this unparalleled herding together is natural and to continue or whether it is temporary and likely to begin breaking up imme- But even more disturbing was the diately. Do Women Want Freedom? A Woman Who Was Criticized Grace Morgan wrote an article about the rebellion of a mother who put her two children into their place Mother and father had sacrificed for those children until at last the boy and girl, full grown, had come to expect the best of everything in the family. Mother couldn't cook what father liked because the children objected. Mother had to take the second best room because daughter had to have the big bed-Father couldn't listen to symphonies because the young people liked jazz. And whenever the parents wanted the family automobile, the kids just had to have it.

So mother blew up and laid down a few laws. Hereafter, she said, she and father would live their own lives and the children could have what was left. That family, she told them, would revolve around Ma and Pa, and if the two younger ones didn't like it, they could get out and marry and make homes of their they were their children's age.

But mother wasn't going to be a martyr any more, and she and father were going to live the sort of life they WANTED for them-

Collection To Be Taken At Game Here Friday Night For Purpose

When the New Castle High School football team goes to Altoona October 29, to play the Altoona High, the Senior High band should accompany it, many of the fans here believe. Appreciating the splendid service rendered by the band this season and realizing the importance of having a band on a strange field, the fans have urged that the band be taken along. Money is scarce around-the high school this year, as it is many other places, and the funds of the Athletic Council do not permit the expenditure necessary. In order to get funds, a collection will be taken between the halves Friday night when the Washington High school team plays on Taggart Field. The total cost of transporting the band from New Castle to Altoona and return will be about $250. In good years this sum could be raised in fifteen minutes but conditions this year are different. A small contribution from each of the crowd attending the game Friday night would raise this $250 with ease and no inconvenience. "YOU CAN'T RUN YOUR CAR WITH A DICTIONARY"-SAYS GOYD FLIBBENS

Howdy everybody: I have just had the most breath-taking experiment of my career. Lend your thesaurus while I tell you about it. You know me as a reporter and a good one, but have you ever heard of my venture into the unknown when I turned dicsplorer (a word of my own meaning dictionary explorer) ?-no, you say-well I'll tell you about it.

Securing a late copy of an American Bridged Dictionary I searched for weeks, months and years, for words that would make an automobile takes a hill in high, low or second. I couldn't find them, they just weren't there. True enough I found a lot of good sounding adjectives, cracked, fractionated, controlled and otherwise but after more than 6,000 experiments I was forced to the conclusion that nothing would make that old bus take the hill except good gasoline, with or without adjectives.

And those CORECO folks have it, take it from me, they know their molecules—they have taken good old CORECO (the choice of thousands since 1889) and pepped, stepped and hepped it up until they got a motor fuel which just can't do anything but put new life in the old bus. This modern gasoline has the temper, control and newness needed for every car-high or low compressionit walks away with the miles on the hills or on the level with even power, more mileage and less carbon. It starts like an Olympic Game's sprinter and best news of all costs no more than plain everyday gas.

I must close this report in a hurry, I have other fish to fry and I must have room for my signature. See you later.

PAIN WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Benguć (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengué by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

BOARD DECIDES AGAINST TRADE SCHOOL PROJECT

Classes Will Not Be Resumed Here

Committee Gives Reasons Why Teachers Plan Is Not Accepted

ORIGINAL ACTION

Following an exhaustive report by the Budget Committee Wednesday evening to the New Castle School Board, the matter of re-establishing part of the Trade school classes in the school shops was definitely settled, the board refusing to rescind any part of its previous action in closing the shops.

The matter was brought before the board a month ago when a delegation of Trade School teachers presented a request, asking they Robt. M. White, Mrs. C. R. Sherer, be permitted to operate the shops Mrs. J. G. Gates, Mrs. Sam Mcfor salaries which would amount Gown, Miss Flora Ellen Martin, Mrs. to the subsidies received from the J. L. Patterson. Federal and State Governments. A committee was appointed by President Daniel B. Woolcock, the committee being the Budget Commitford Elliott, Roy W. Hazen and W.

Matter Considered Thoroughly Director Roy W. Hazen presented Mrs. S. E. Gillespie. the report and prefaced the reading of it by saying that the com-for economy at this time. The re- sey. establishment of the shops at this time, the report said, would mean a reversal of the board's previous Schools Exempt action, would entail considerable money and thus mean a revision of the budget upwards at this time. The added expense was said in the report to be that occasioned by the hiring of academic teachers teachers there is no Smith-Hughes This expense would mean a net increase of $2470, $500 more for janitor service, $611 for fuel, $400 for light and power, and supplies, estimated by the teachers at $300 would bring the net increase in the bud-

Must File Reports

Further, the report went on to say, the work of Smith-Hughes Act teachers in Trade Schools must be reported and the report sworn to. If the board paid the teachers salaries totalling only the amount of aid received, it would mean that they would be reimbursed for only a per cent of this amount, and not forty per cent of the scheduled sal-To report a teacher as receiving the scheduled salary, knowing that a certain portion would be returned, would be a violation of ethics, in the words of the report, and might lead to difficulty with the Federal Vocational Educational

The committee recommended the refusal of the proposal for three reasons, First, By it acceptance the board would be reversing itself and forced to revise the budget upwards. Second, the re-establishment of the Trade Schools would mean a net increase in cost of $4281. Third, acceptance of the plan would be a violation of ethics and would be of questionable legality in addi-

Teachers Heard

P. G. Howell, an instructor in the Shops asked to be heard on the subject and said that he felt the abandonment of the shops was an injustice to the students and to the teachers. He suggested that the Trade School be run as an adjunct of the Senior High School, and by this means the related subjects could be taught by instructors of the school now working. If it is illegal for such an arrangement in New Castle, Mr. Howell said it must necessarily be illegal in other parts of Pennsylvania where such a plan

Martin Mills, another instructor of the Shops asked where the difference was between the proposal made by them, and the plan now in effect wherein two vocational Home Economics teachers in the Senior High School were making a voluntary contribution of twenty per cent back to the school district. It was explained that these teachers were under another act, and that further the report to the Federal Government would show only the actual salary paid these teachers. After hearing the explanation of the committee Mr. Mills said that he did not blame the board for its action.

J. C. Thomas, a citizen was heard in the matter and said that he was a taxpayer and that he had a son who had started Trade School work and that he felt it was unfair to discontinue this type of instruction when other subjects, less important in his opinion, were being taught.

Practically every member of the board expressed himself in the matter and with one exception said that while they were in sympathy with the spirit back of the proposal and wanted to see the Trade Schools classes continue, they were forced to vote against the idea.

The one exception to the report was Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett who said that she felt the board could make other economies to get the needed $4281 to carry on the Trade School work, and that she thought it was grossly unfair to discontinue the shop work when it was so important. On the vote, Hyde, Hazen, Duff, Elliott, Cleland, McIlvenny, Bauman and Woolcock voted to sustain the report and Mrs. Douthett voted in the negative. The hard part of changing the Volstead act will be to legalize beer without disturbing the status quo of Jamaica ginger, bayrum and

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills.
